BLUE & WHITE Nineteen Hundred 72

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

SPRINGFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS

VOLUME — LI

An exact reflection
Of something unseen
Even on the surface
Of mirror-like ponds.

Your inner self remains
Unexplored and unchanged,
A mystery hidden
Deep within the soul

Until another's remarks
Splash through the strange waters.
And when the ripples cease to move
The water reflects an image quite clear to the owner.

SPRINGFIELD CITY LIBRARY

I am one of countless beings,
The human race,
Identified by the quality and content
Of their thoughts
And by the variety of their likes and dislikes.
I am one of a large minority,
The American adolescents —
I am striving to find my place
In our society.
I am a member of the new generation
And hope to represent them well.
I am a teenager striving to find myself,
A student anxious to learn all I can,
A person not certain of my future,
Yet an adult convinced that I will make it in this world
If only I can learn to reach further than my arms length
To grasp all I can
While holding out my hand to others
No matter how far away
They seem to be.

Now
 I am
 Now that I am
 Now that I'm me
 Who am I?
 Who am I among everyone here?
 Am I lost in this crowd?
 Why is it so difficult to find myself?
 I want to be myself.
 Let me be
 Let me be
 Let me be me.

Yesterday —

Yes, looking back from here
we find a world of yesterdays

And now,

Life not only stretches before us but roots itself in memories.

Must we live today

or can we return to yesterday to try again?

What will tomorrow bring?

Another yesterday to look back on with happiness?

Sunset . . .
the promise of tonight
and tomorrow.
Life continues
with us or without.
Nature
never-ending in her search for tomorrow.
And us?
What will be our life
at sunset or tomorrow?
Our lives will be molded
in different shapes and sizes.
And even though some of us know what to do with our lives
We still look toward the sunset
And in its reflection
we try to find our tonight
our tomorrow
our future.

How can I believe in peace
When there is only war?
How can I believe in happiness
When there is only suffering?
How can I believe in equality
When there is only racism?
How can I believe in love
When there is only hatred?
And
How can I believe in God
When he is always silent?
Please tell me.

The people, places, fun we once shared
... now but reflections of what was our life.

What we do with these reflections
Will determine what will be our life.

Principals

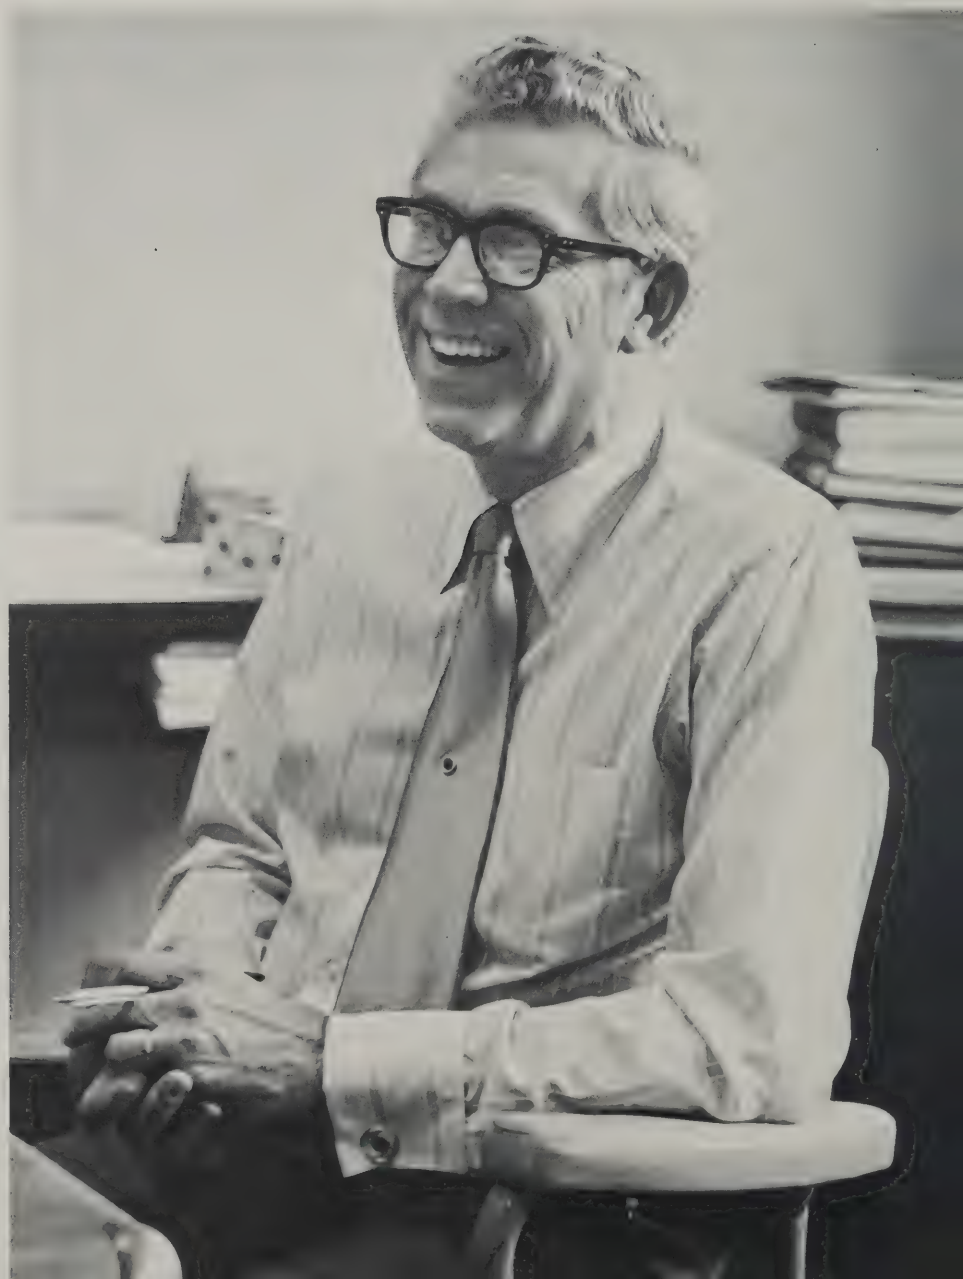

Conforming to Our Needs

This year has been one of many changes, as the school faculty begins to conform with the needs and wishes of the students. None of these changes would have been possible if it were not for the help of the principals and assistant principals. Awakened to the new student mood, these men have accomplished a great deal for Classical, so that Classical still rates as a leading city high school.

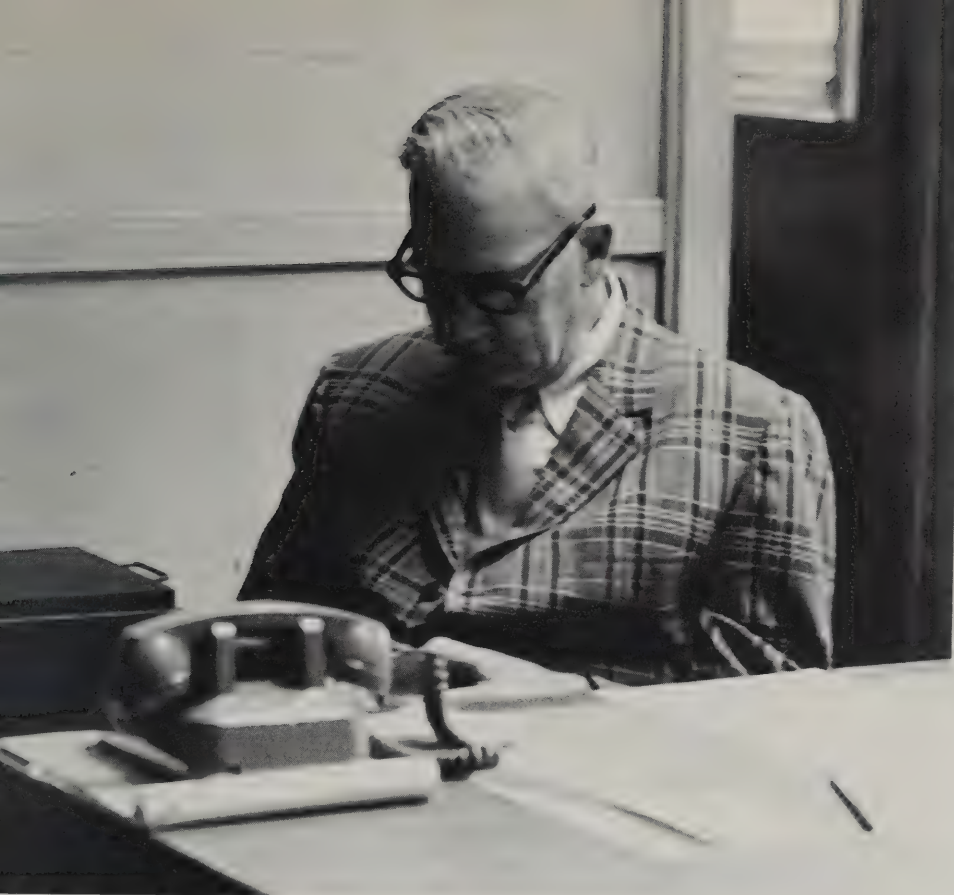

2

3

1 — Principal Russell Peterson confers with Steve Gordon before a junior assembly. 2 — Mr. Raymond Marr, acting assistant principal of discipline, maintains good order and attendance at Classical. 3 — Key man in administration, Mr. Russell Peterson, has taken over the duties of Principal Raymond Montagna. He has become an important member of Classical's faculty and he holds his new position well. 4 — Mr. Phillip Hart, assistant principal at the Annex, studies Classical's bulletin for tardinesses and absentees. 5 — Mr. John Sweeney, assistant principal of Classical, has various duties such as arranging schedules and compiling the honor role.

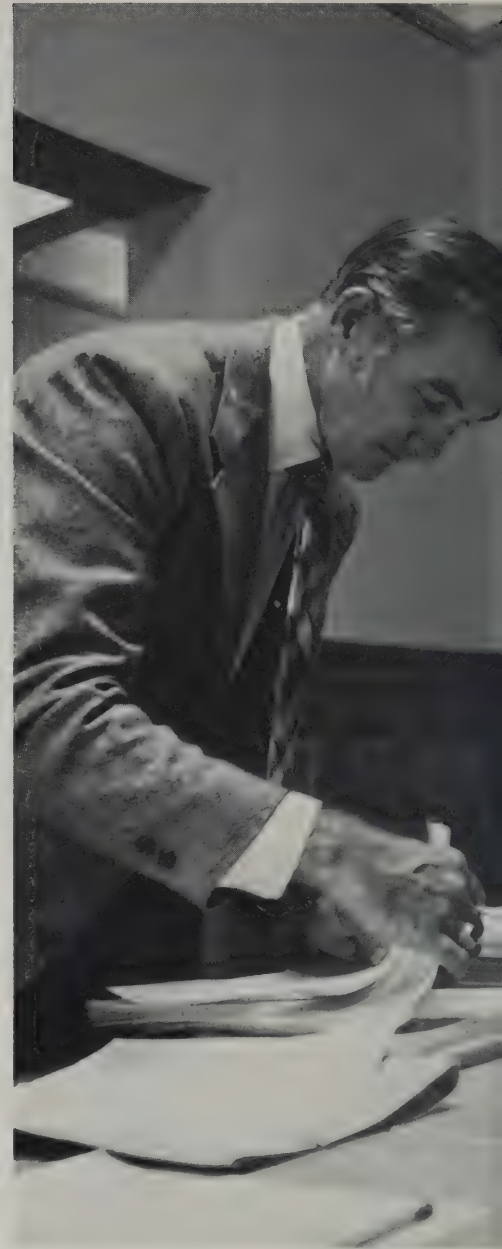

Counselors

Guide Students into a Promising Future

Our counselors are kept busy throughout the school year conferring with teachers and admissions officers, whom they visit or talk to by phone. They aid students in choosing the colleges best suited for their particular needs. When a student needs help, the counselors are there to guide him into the correct path for his future.

1 — Mrs. Betty Moody offers her advice to senior Louise Benedetti about a certain college she wishes to attend. 2 — Going through the college bulletins, Mr. Baron McDuffee makes sure everything is in order for the seniors. 3 — Mrs. Margaret Ramos is looking over a student's grades and rating cards so that she may aid him in making the correct choice for college.

4 — Miss Mary Corcoran is kept busy by putting the finishing touches on the college applications. 5 — New on the counselor's staff this year, Mrs. Mildred Cabana, a former math teacher, is caught eating her hurried lunch. 6 — Also new on the staff, Mr. Gerald Canter is ready to answer any questions the students may have.

Office Aids

An Essential Part of Classical's Routine

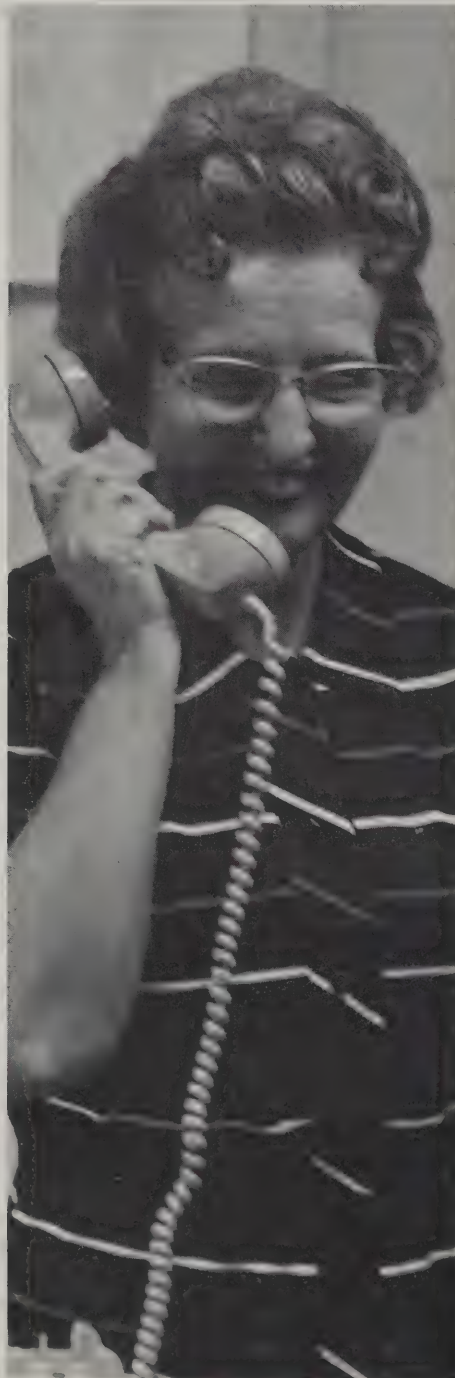

Very often, the role of our secretaries is taken for granted, but they are an essential part of the daily routine of Classical. The office aids help to keep the school's records, supplies, and applications in good order. They are all vital members of the school staff and keep the school running smoothly.

1 — Miss Dorothy Healy checks grades for college transcripts and applications. 2 — Chief secretary of the main office, Mrs. Rose Rubino organizes transcripts for senior applications. 3 — In charge of early dismissal notes and tardinesses, Mrs. Mary Kopy is all smiles on a Monday morning. 4 — Answering an outside phone call, Mrs. Mary Sheehan is kept busy by typing out the morning bulletin and various other duties. 5 — One of the many responsibilities of Mrs. Vi Creanza is running off copies for the English department. 6 — Mrs. Carol Sengle has a full day as secretary to the counselors. 7 — As a teacher aid, Mrs. Vi Basile types out numerous tests for the math and history departments. 8 — Mrs. Ellen Mossi divides her time working as an aid in the library and for the foreign language department. 9 — Checking book orders and clerical duties are among the jobs of Mrs. Barbara Cant.

School Aids

Vital Staff Members

Classical's staff is not complete just with the teachers. Constant attention to Classical's physical appearance is given by our custodians. The cooks prepare lunches for the students and the teachers. The librarian runs our library with maximum efficiency, and the school nurse is always around to help ailing students. These people also help Classical's day run smoothly.

1 — Mrs. Rose Burns, the school nurse, tries to find out what is ailing Kathy Kilbride. 2 — Some of the ladies who prepare lunches for the students and teachers are, from left to right: Margaret Lyons, Margaret Landers, Mary Seaver, Frances Boisvert, Josephine Saracino, Carmella Bisi, and Bertha Canon. 3 — Miss Isabelle Brown, Classical's librarian keeps all the school books in order for the benefit of the students. 4 — Mr. William Page, one of Classical's custodians, shows one of the intricate machines that he must keep in good order. 5 — Mr. Patsy Scibelli cleans up after the mob of students has left the lunchrooms.

English

Reflections of Life

In the past, the English department has been involved primarily with the proper ways of reading and writing, but, as this year ends, we realize that this approach has gone through a variety of changes, conforming to the needs of our students. Not only do we read, but we find in our readings a reflection of modern life. Not only do we write, but we learn to change a thought into a meaningful piece of reading material. The faculty's idea has worked well. By giving the student a specific choice of subject area, he learns with more efficiency.

1 — In her creative writing class, Mrs. Jean Bogan discusses the techniques of good writing as a means of expressing ideas thoroughly. 2 — A newcomer to Classical's faculty, Miss Marilyn Johnson reviews one of the required short stories with Giuseppe Mercolino. 3 — Chairman of the English department and adviser to the Girls' Patrol, Miss Ruth Dickerman explains to Roxanne Avery the correct methods used in the Patrol's handbook.

3

6

4 — Although many books have been damaged because of the "Great Flood" in the bookroom, Mr. Francis Girr continues to keep them in good order. 5 — Mrs. Phyllis Thomas makes use of the library facilities in order to make her classes more interesting. 6 — Adviser to Scribe, Mrs. Laurie Pieterse teaches both English and psychology.

English

Exploring New Ideas

The English department of Classical is indeed fortunate to have such a fine group of teachers. They spent the summer thinking of a better way to teach their students. Ideas were thought out and success resulted because of the hard work and imagination of the teachers.

1

3

1 — Adviser to the Recorder, Mr. Henry Brady stresses an important point in one of his lectures on semantics and logic. 2 — Mrs. Susan J. Danton reviews the next Word Wealth assignment with her freshman class. 3 — Miss Teresa E. Regina discusses how environment effects man's attitude toward life and himself with one of her English classes.

4

6

4 — A newcomer to Classical, Mr. John Sawyer has had a great affect on his students, not only as a teacher, but as a friend as well. 5 — Known for his great sense of humor, Mr. Neil Yesu attempts to remember what he was trying to explain before being interrupted by the photographer. 6 — Mr. William Lavin subtly plugs a book by Abbie Hoffman.

English

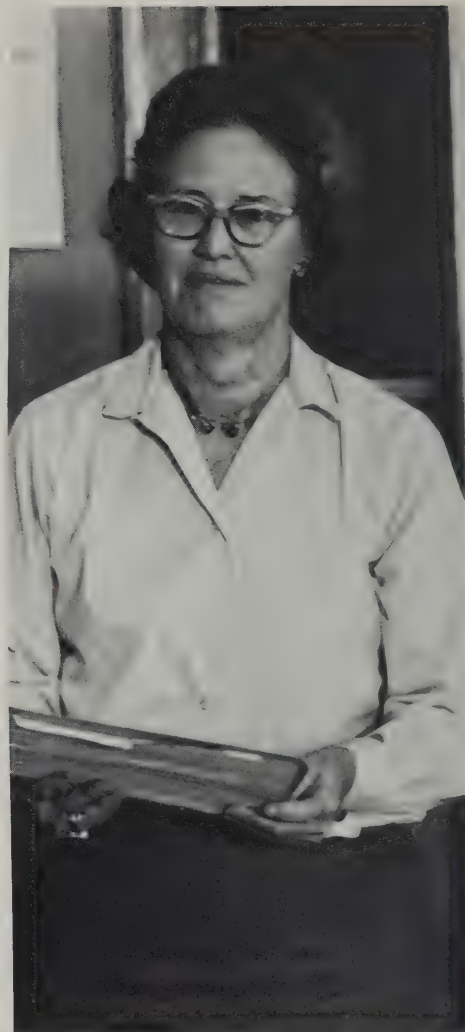

Response to Changes

1

1 — The adviser to Blue and White, Miss Lorraine Plasse talks with Mark Cassanelli about a layout on the sports section. 2 — Her second year at Classical, Miss Judith Carlson checks the attendance of her freshman class. 3 — A teacher who greatly enjoys her work, Mrs. Harriet Widland uses great emphasis to stress important factors on English literature.

7

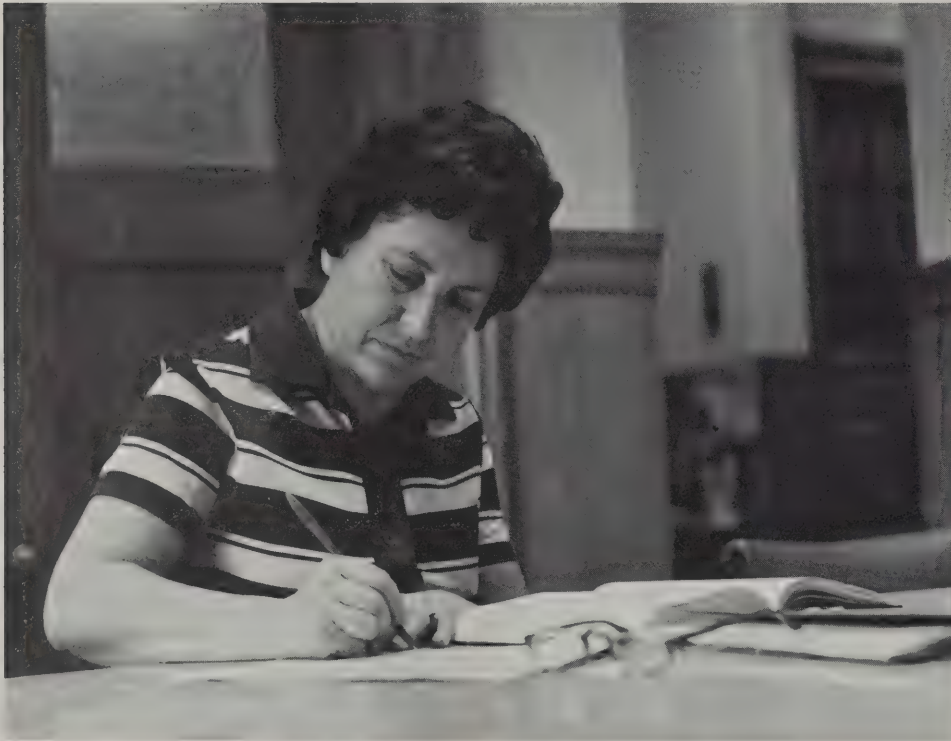

4 and 5 — Finishing her second year of teaching at Classical, Miss Kathleen Bromley enjoys being a part of Classical's sports as well as teaching her students and giving extra help when needed. Here she speaks with Frank Minsk about a few mistakes on his assignment. 6 — A newcomer to Classical, Mr. James Podworski carries on a friendly relationship with his students. 7 — A stimulating teacher of English, Mr. Richard Pervonga believes that enthusiasm is the key to good learning.

Mathematics

Challenging Math for Inquiring Minds

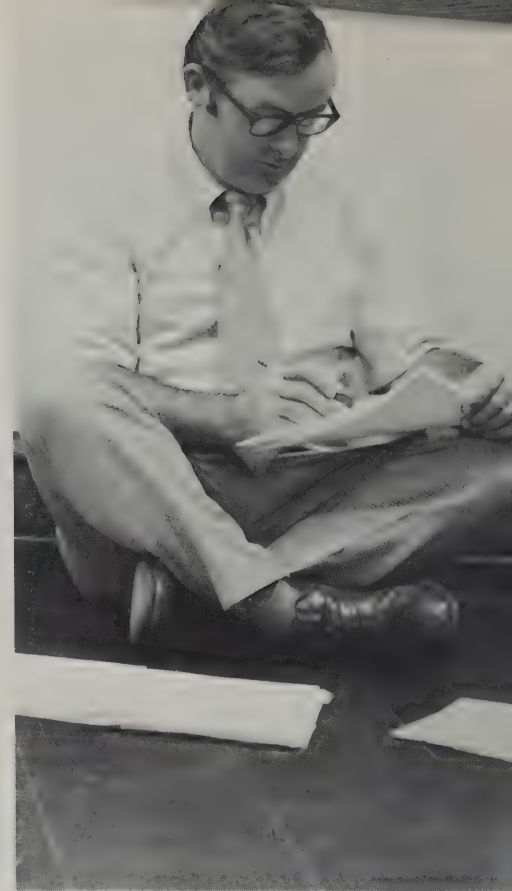

Our mathematics department has been undergoing a noticeable change in the past few years. Classical is making use of new teaching methods and several new text books.

By giving a modern interpretation to mathematics the students are making fine progress. Because of advanced techniques the mathematical language is increasing, thus, more knowledge is available for inquiring minds.

1 — Math department chairman, Mrs. Julia Bale, makes out a test for her algebra class. 2 — Mr. John Sullivan corrects papers in his "Mr. Sullivan" manner. 3 — Mr. Richard Annino explains the factoring of a quadratic equation.

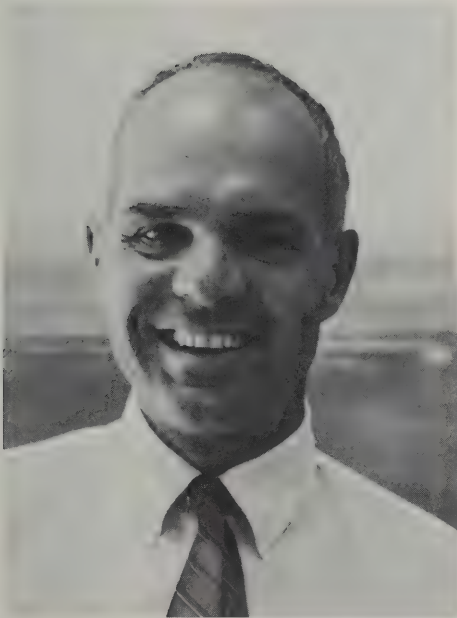

2

4

5

7

4 — Mr. Armand Jermakian explains the transitive property to his class. 5 — A big smile from Mr. Richard Pare, a math teacher and coach to the golf team. 6 — Mr. Robert Keough gives the next day's assignment to his freshman class. 7 — Mrs. Julia Beverly points out the tangents of a circle to her junior class.

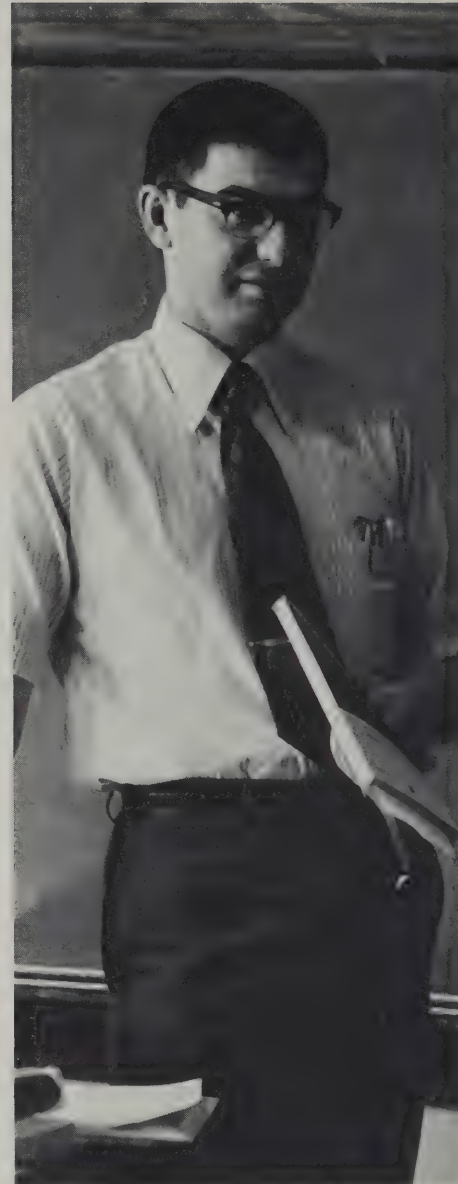

Mathematics

Excellent Teachers to Stimulate Our Minds

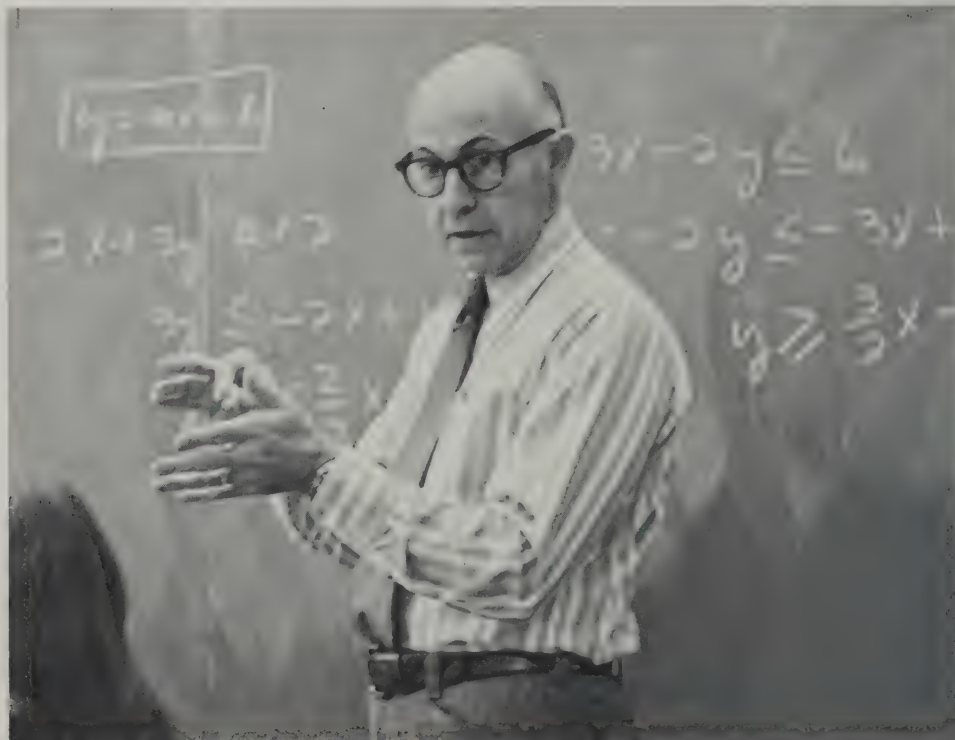

1

1 — A new member of the mathematics department, Mrs. Ellen Morganstern stresses the importance of studying formulas. 2 — Mr. Allan Peck agrees with a student about the answer to a problem. 3 — Mr. Robert Stevens explains the use of the slope formula to his class.

2

5

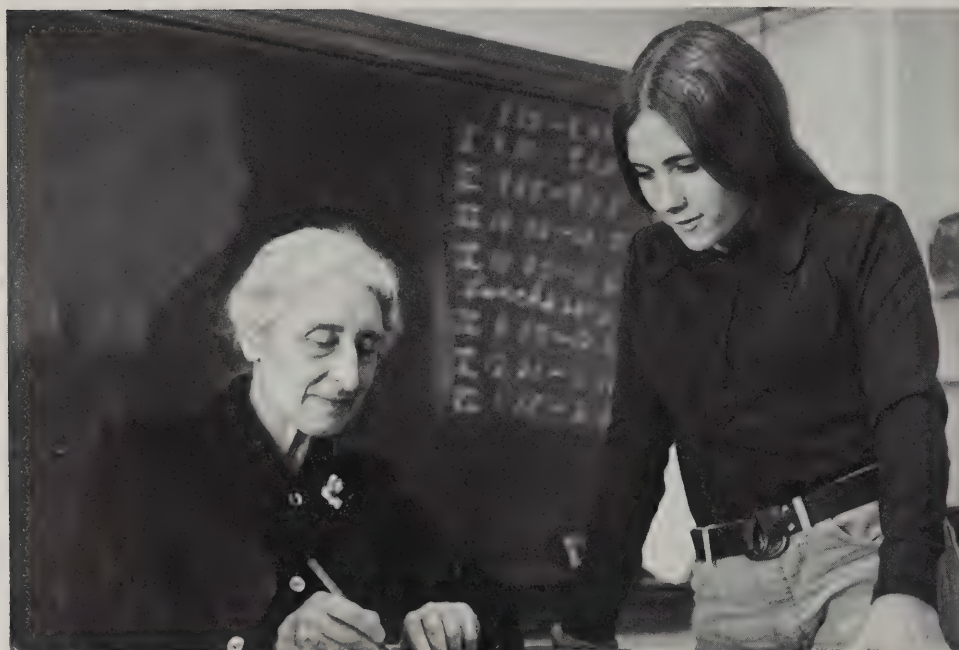

4 — Miss Sylvia Lazarnick, another new staff member, talks to her students on a friendly basis. 5 — Miss Barbara Weisbrod stresses her point so that the whole class understands. 6 — Miss Marilyn Freedman helps Mark Palitino out of a difficult problem.

Language

Doors to Foreign Lands

The language faculty extends a knowledge of foreign languages to the students by acquainting us with culture as well as the language itself. To have knowledge of a second language is to open a pathway of understanding into foreign lands, receiving a better awareness of the people and their culture.

1 — Helping Irene Gaston with a question, Miss Carolina Accorsi makes certain everyone understands the work. 2 — Her second year at Classical, Mrs. Jeanne M. Wessman stresses the proper pronunciation of French. 3 — A teacher of Spanish, Miss Mary E. McCarthy speaks with Mary Sue Shea about the proper use of the tape recorder.

5

7

4 — Miss Maria Santos gives Marlene Garbin a make-up test during one of her studies. 5 — A teacher of French and Hebrew, Dr. Philip Miller stresses the importance of grammar to his French class. 6 — Originally from Peru, Mr. Alberto Zavala corrects papers in the quiet of a classroom. 7 — Miss Irene Meurnier, one of our French teachers, talks to her French class about the novel they are currently reading.

Language

Knowledge and Understanding of Other Cultures

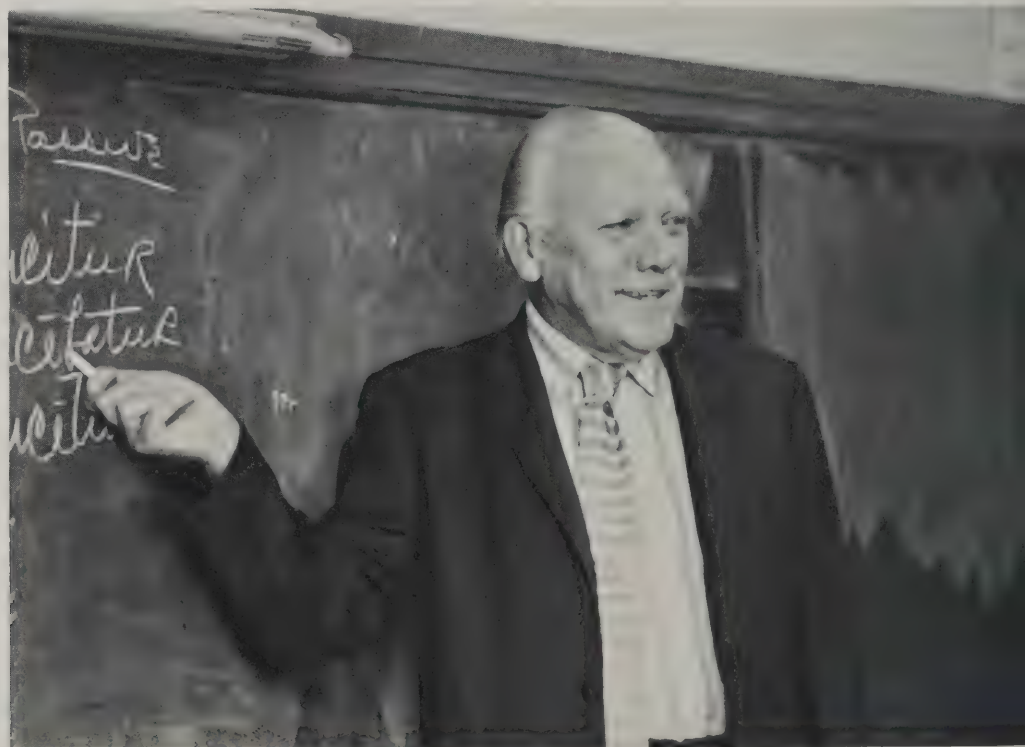

1

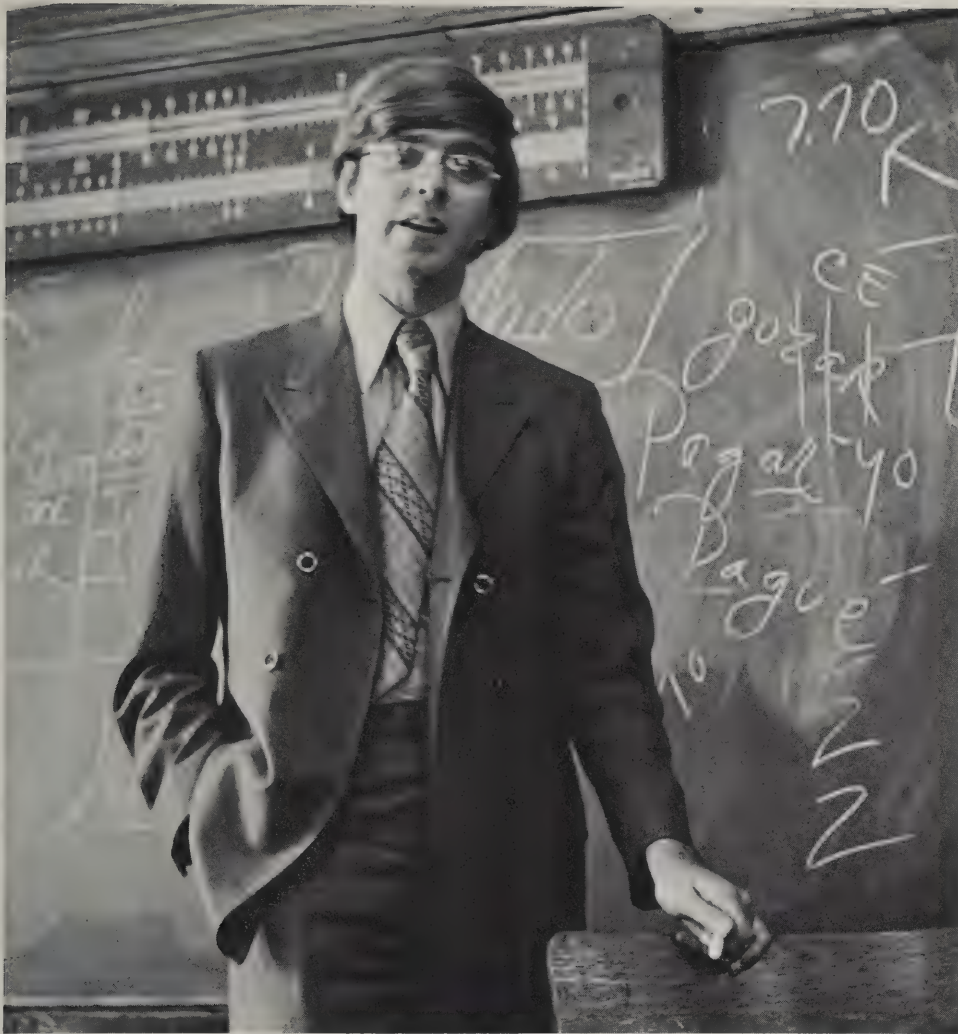

1 — A teacher of both Spanish and German, Mr. Arnold Matz corrects papers so that he can see how much his students have learned. 2 — Making sure his French class can understand the translation, Mr. Euclid J. Lague repeats his sentence with emphasis on the important words. 3 — Mr. Robert Curley, a Latin and French teacher, points out the correct form of the passive tense to his Latin class.

4

6

5

4 — Mr. David Douglas believes in developing his students' creative ability. 5 — A newcomer to Classical, Miss Andrea Chechile examines the marks on her student's tests. 6 — A stimulating teacher of French, Miss Nancy Duffey gives her class their next assignment. 7 — One of the more humorous teachers in the school, Mr. Raymond Lussier conveys his subject to his students in an interesting manner.

Social Studies

Learning to Live in Today's Society

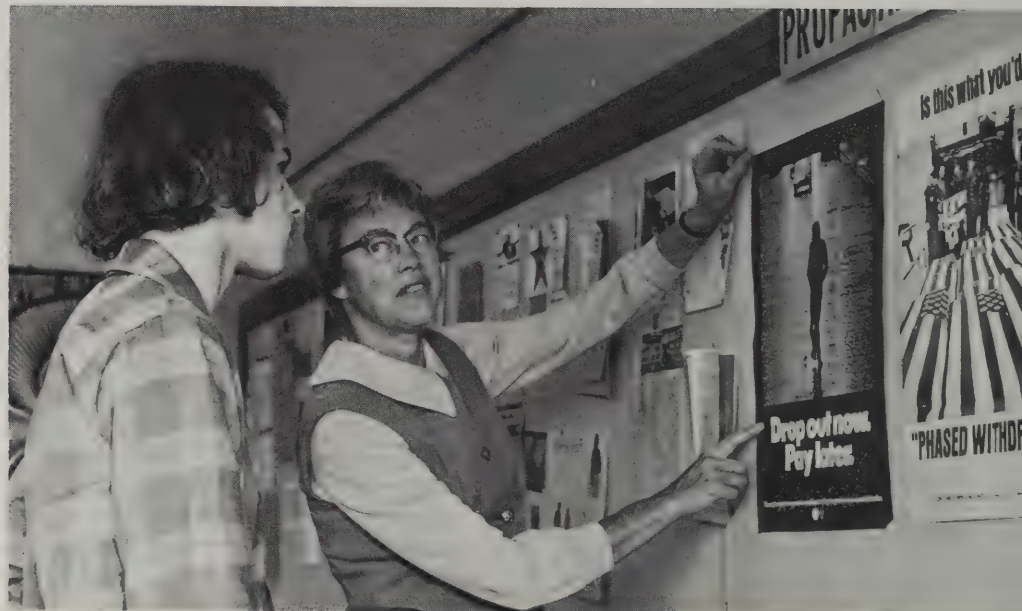

Through the use of complete and effective textbooks, social studies is an enriching course, overflowing with knowledge of national society. The students become familiar with past and current issues involving our government and people as well as the people and governments of other countries. The topics taught within this course aim to help the students relate yesterday's problems to today's world. Not only does this course increase the knowledge of past history but it also increases our knowledge of the problems of the world, thus, we can better learn to live within our society.

3

1 — Making out his plan book, Mr. Steven LeClair is always prepared. 2 — An American history teacher, Mr. William Conway discusses the events leading up to the Civil War with his class. 3 — Mrs. Barbara Bowen points out a good slogan to David Gaby. 4 — Mrs. Jeanette Harris speaks to Bob Senk about a required reading book.

6

7

9

5 — Miss Susan Shea discusses the main points of the revolution. 6 — His second year at Classical, Mr. Clark Henderson believes that reasons are just important as the facts involved. 7 — Mr. Daniel Meder passes back a test to his American government class. 8 — Mrs. Frances Evans has a certain way to make her teaching interesting and enjoyable. 9 — A teacher of American, ancient, and European history, Mr. William Young speaks to his class about civil rights.

Science

Experiments Aid in Scientific Development

Our science department teachers believe in teaching their classes in an effervescent manner. Trying to make intricate problems easier to explore and understand is a hard task, and you can be sure that our science teachers have been trained for this. Through the use of advanced textbooks as well as experiments acquainting their students with the latest technological advances, our science faculty succeeds in giving their students a strong background in the various fields of science.

1

1 — Mrs. Gail Fiorentino speaks to Marianthy Babacas about an experiment she will perform during class. 2 — A stimulating teacher of science, Mrs. Gail Sullivan teaches her class with great enthusiasm. 3 — Mr. Albert Mariani corrects tests during his free period.

2

4

6

4 and 5 — During school, Mr. Richard Guzowski teaches his classes with great interest while after school all his attention is devoted to his child. 6 — Using the overhead projector, Mr. Howard Lynch makes an intricate problem look easier.

Science

Exploring the Latest Technological Advances

1

1 — With the help of a strange friend, Mrs. Erline Provost corrects papers from one of her physiology classes. 2 — Mr. Jerome Shea works in his pride and joy — the plant room. 3 — Mr. Francis Lamoureux explains why a magnet is either attracted or repelled by another when brought together.

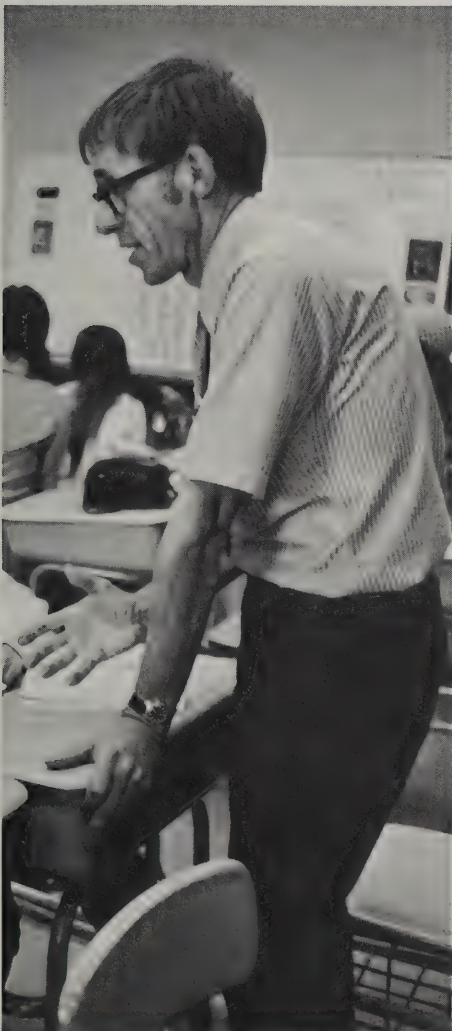

2

4

6

4 — Mr. James O'Donnell uses lab facilities to help his students through difficult assignments. 5 — Mr. Robert Smith speaks about the use of a microscope. 6 — Mr. Edward Lundrigan helps two students through a difficult problem.

Music

To Soothe or Overjoy

Whatever the mood, Classical has a good music department with two versatile directors who discover new talent and teach all music classes.

Each time we hear the Madrigal, the Mixed Choir, the Boys' Chorus, and the Girls' Chorus we can thank Mr. Paul Robbins for the great performances. When we hear the band or the orchestra, Dr. Vincent O'Keeffe enters our mind. Together, they make a fine team and deliver fine performances.

1 — Dr. Vincent O'Keeffe shows the parts of the violin to a student. 2 — Dr. O'Keeffe explains a new piece of music to the band members. 3 — Mr. Paul Robbins conducts a few members of the chorus in a practice.

3

1

Art

New Ways of Expression

Scratches on an artist's pad reveal the inner moods of the artist. Seeking new ways to express ideas, a person can always turn to art as another form of revealing his inner thoughts. Art can take many varied forms as shown to us through our two capable teachers.

1 — Mr. Joseph Nai explains to a freshman student the art of depth by using texture. 2 — Using an outside example, Mr. Ronald Anderson explains the art of realistic drawing.

2

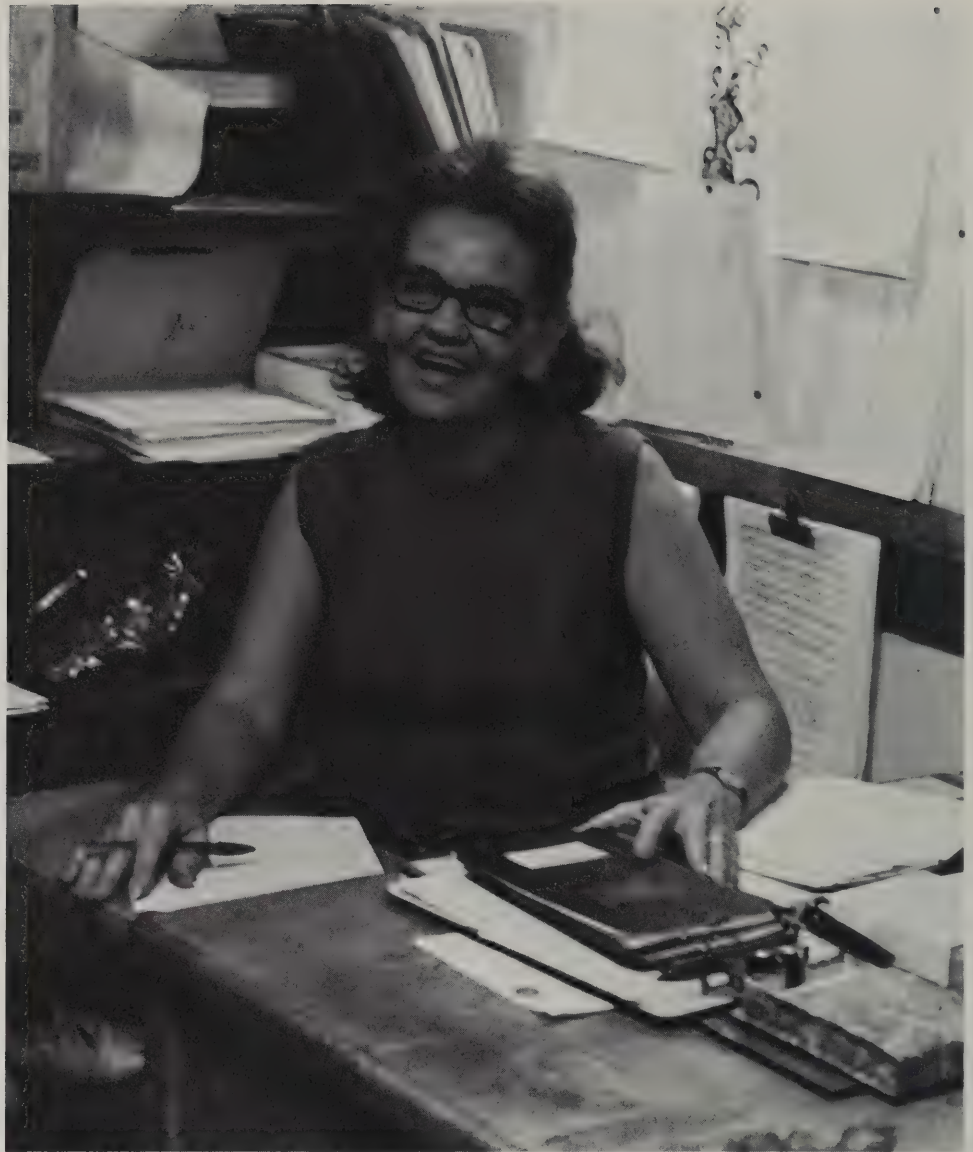

Gymnastics

New Methods Add Variety

Through the gym classes at Classical the students learn the fundamental principles of physical fitness as well as the idea of good sportsmanship. The gym teachers are never satisfied with the old way of teaching when there are new and varied techniques to be explored.

As these new techniques are developed, gym classes become an enjoyable subject rather than one that is required.

1 — Through interesting fields of gymnastics, such as yoga and horseback riding, Mrs. Audrey Desrochers adds variety to her classes. 2 — Miss Elsa Rosenak believes that regular, daily exercise is important to maintain good health.

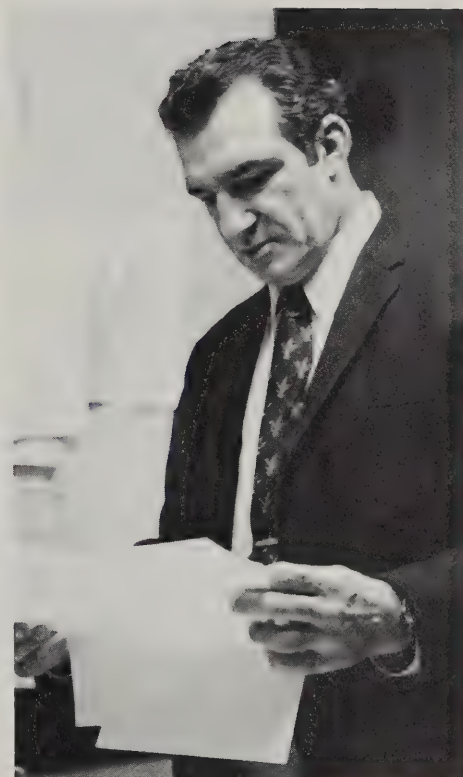

2

5

3 — A new member of the gymnastic department, Mr. Carlton Young speaks with Doug Jenkins after school. 4 — Coach for the soccer and track teams, Mr. Donald Vaughan also teaches drivers' education. 5 — Coach Archie Cataldi goes over the football schedule.

Isn't time a strange thing?
We thought about how long
These three years would last
And while we were thinking
They ran past us.
But, we managed to catch these times
And enclose them in the depths of our minds.

Quiet —

A simple peace hovers overhead
The day — without a mind is silent
I can hear my own breathing and in the background
the gentle breezes running through the leaves, and making them whisper.

Quiet —

As I've searched for peace
And never found it
I've come to appreciate moments
Of quiet.
And now I'm tired and feel lonely,
Knowing that somewhere close to me it's noisy.
I miss the laughter of the day
Being now a part of peace and quiet.

Juniors

Finding New Interests

Concentrating on community activities, the junior class has broken away from the traditional school mold. The class is finding greater fulfillment by involvement in such activities as ecology movements, participation in the Downeyside drive, and in the effort to achieve an open campus.

Yearbook

Blue and White Reflects

The staff of the 1972 edition of the Blue and White selected "Reflections" as the theme of the yearbook. Under the guidance of faculty adviser Miss Lorraine Plasse and the leadership of editor Kathy Podsadowski, the yearbook staff worked diligently to record the year's events in both pictures and words. The staff members tried to follow throughout the book the theme of "Reflections" so that graduates leafing through the yearbook many years from now will have an interesting, informative, and sometimes amusing record of their high school years to look back on.

National Honor Society

Graduates Return to Classical for Alumni Tea

The William C. Hill chapter of the National Honor Society is made up of students who have attained a 3.75 average by the middle of their junior year, a 3.50 average in the fall of their senior year, or a 3.25 average at graduation.

The National Honor Society sponsors the annual Alumni Tea which offers former graduates an opportunity to visit Classical and gives seniors the opportunity to find out "what's happening" on the college scene.

Student Government

Proposing New Ideas to Improve Classical

Student Government is an active organization at Classical High.

The main purpose of Student Government is to sponsor activities that will provide enjoyment for the students and encourage the general welfare of the school.

A few of the many and varied projects of Student Government consist in the Student Treasury drive, the student-faculty softball game, and the annual Holiday Dance.

Girls' Patrol

Aids School Community

Advised by Miss Dickerman, Girls' Patrol is an efficient organization serving our school in several ways.

During the course of the year, these energetic girls assist visitors, serve as office aids, and relay messages.

In general, they strive to maintain order and to promote the school program. In addition to these school time duties, the girls usher at such functions as the Christmas and Spring concerts.

1

1 — Louise Benedetti sits attentively waiting to aid the many students who enter the counselors' office each day. 2 — Lieutenants Frederica Benedetti, Patricia Roberts, captain Marcia Patrakis, and clerk Gail Larrivee look over the schedule for the week, while owl mascot, Archie, supervises. 3 — Scharlene Snowden reviews the daily duties with Rosemary Scartz and Hilda Shand.

Boys' Patrol

Provides School Spirit

Boys' Patrol is a spirited group whose major purpose consists in controlling corridor traffic and policing the lunch rooms. The Patrol also adds a great deal of zest to the pep rallies and school life in general.

4 — At the end of the day, John Dieters and Ralph Sciatelli make sure the pass book is in order. 5 — Jim Swiatlowski catches up on some homework while on patrol. 6 — Scott Parizo opens the locker of forgetful James Harmon. 7 — While on patrol Tom Novembrino, Joe Keenan, and Mark Lemlin find time for a leisurely chat.

Choruses

Develop Vocal Skills

Under the direction of Mr. Paul Robbins, the Choir as well as the Boys' and Girls' choruses gain familiarity with a wide range of choral literature while developing individual and group vocal skills. Aside from participation in the Christmas and Spring concerts, many of the members also sang in the graduation chorus.

Language Clubs

Students Helping Students

Formerly called the Spanish Club, the Spanish Tutorial Club began its work in January. Since its main activity was tutorial they unanimously consented to change the club's name to fit its role. The club started its program late in the year because the school where they had traditionally tutored had changed its time schedule. Finally Classical Jr. High took advantage of the program offered by the club and now Classical High students who need help in Spanish can also benefit. Possibly, with the aid of an Open Campus program, the club can go out into the community and back into the elementary school programs in the near future.

The Classical French Club members try to promote an interest in the culture and daily customs of the French people. The club along with its many other activities has, like the Spanish Tutorial Club, begun tutoring Classical High students who need help in their foreign language courses.

1 — Discussing plans for their upcoming French Club Christmas party are Marianne Megliola, Nancy Diaduk, and Anne Marie Lesniak. 2 — Donna Curtis, Marguerite Foster, and Norma Friedman draw up a schedule for the newly organized Spanish Tutorial club. 3 — Marguerite Foster gives help to one of the many students who benefits from the new Spanish Tutorial program.

Creating Cultural Development

Pierides, the girls' literary society, is the oldest of Classical's clubs for girls. Concerned with the fine arts and culture, its members study prose, poetry, and drama. Pierides hosts a number of guest speakers and sponsors an annual literary contest open to all students.

The Classical Hebrew Club is for those interested in the Hebrew language or the culture and custom of Israel. The club tries to acquaint its members with ancient and modern Israel through programs such as movies, lectures, and plays.

Public Speaking

Senate and Forum

The Senate and Forum give students an opportunity to develop their oratory skills.

Classical's Senate holds formal debates throughout the school year, and participates in both the West Springfield and AIC Model Congresses.

Forum members participate in informal as well as formal public speaking, panel discussions, and debates.

As Schools Match Wits

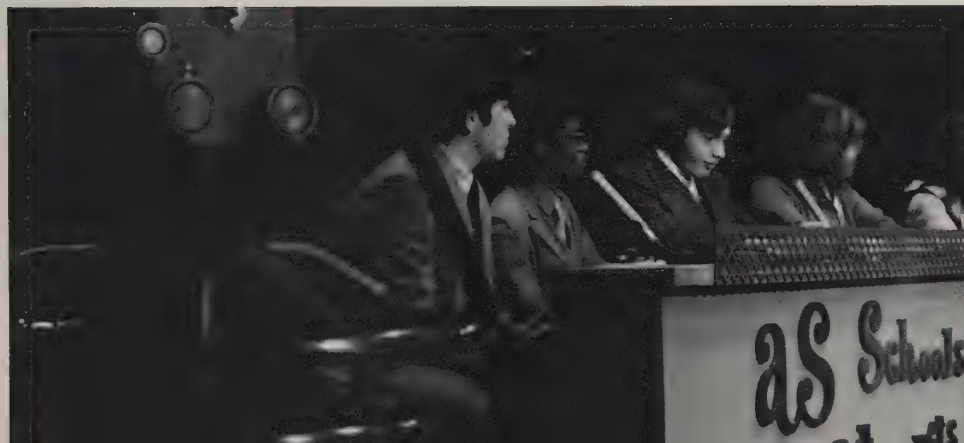

Classical Wins First of Two Matches

The As Schools Match Wits Team, in one of the best showings in recent years, won their first game on Saturday, November 13, with a score of 275 to 145, defeating Amherst Regional High School. In their second match, on Saturday November 20, the team faced Enfield High School, a much more competitive opponent, and lost in a very close game with a score of 180 to 105. Mr. John Sullivan and all the team members are to be credited for the fine representation they gave Classical this past year.

Chess Club

Chessmen Prove Unbeatable

The Classical Chess Club hopes to outdo its last year's record of fifth place in the national competition held in New York. This year's team is as of yet undefeated. Advised by Miss Freedman, the Chess Club strives for sportsmanship and teaches its members to play in a friendly yet competitive manner.

Mathletes

Scholastic Teamwork

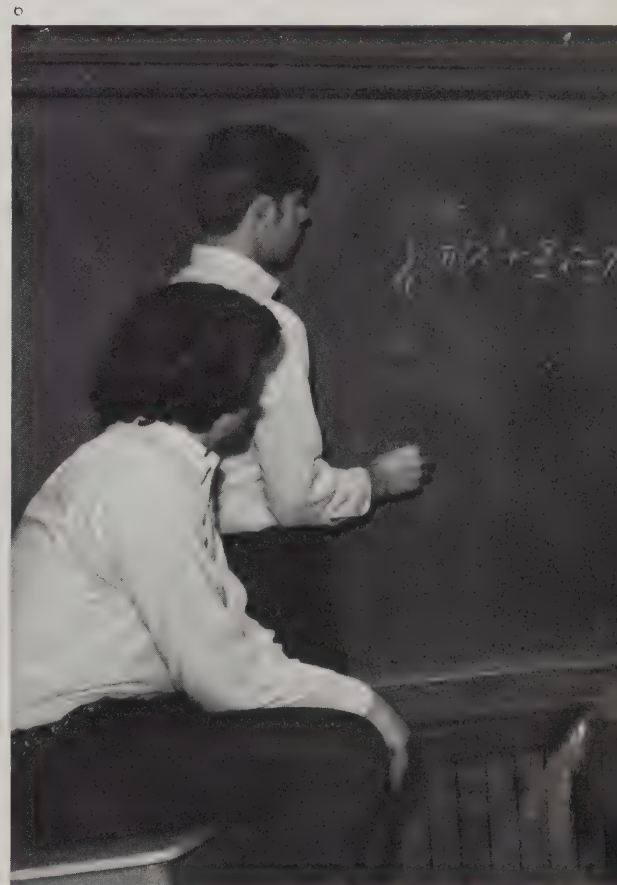

The Mathletes is a team of students who enjoy and excel in Math. The team, advised by Mrs. Bale, competes five times a year against each of the other teams making up the Western Mass. Math League. At a meet, the team is given five problems to be solved within a specified time limit so as to test for both accuracy and speed. Making up this year's team are Warren Dell, Stuart Ehrlich, Sandy Frank, Barbara Posnick, and Mark Warren.

4

4 — Stuart Ehrlich, Mark Warren, and Barbara Posnick concentrate on solving an equation. 5 — Mark Warren tests the skill of Sandy Frank, Barbara Posnick, Stuart Ehrlich and Warren Dell, on the use of a trigonometer. 6 — Sandy Frank looks on as Warren Dell displays his mathematical expertise.

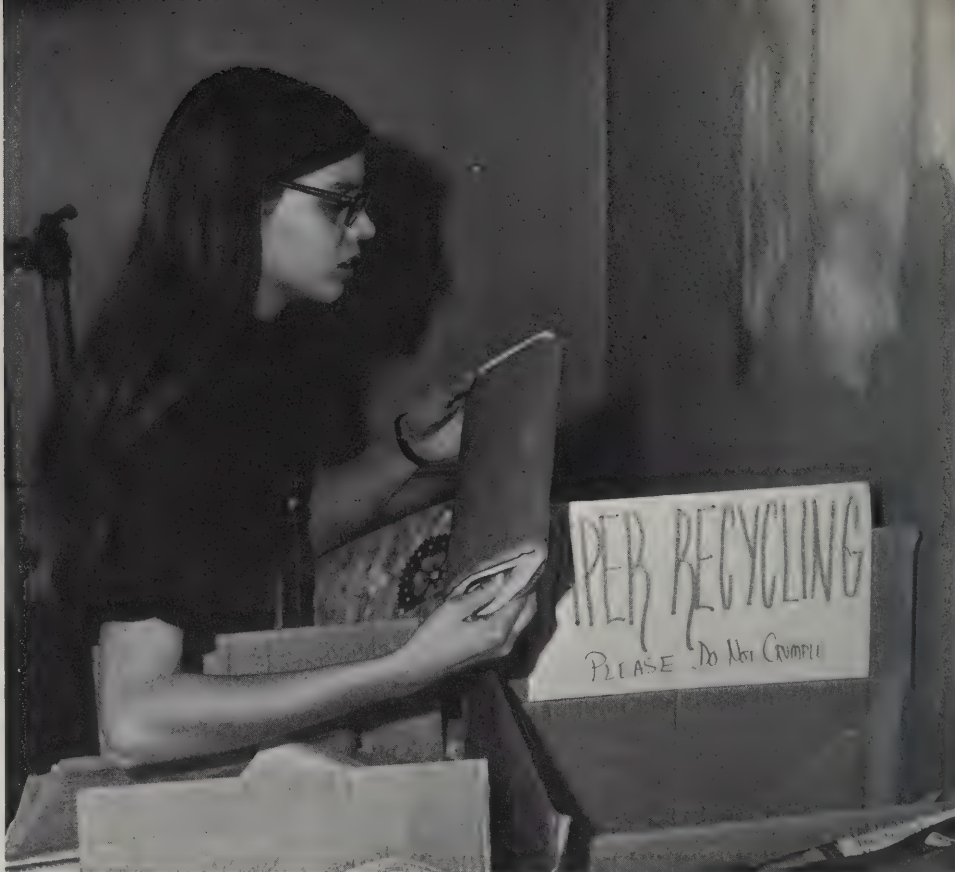

Future Interests

An Interest In Science

Meetings and activities of the Ecology Club are attended by students from various area schools. To keep up with local, regional, and national ecological issues, the group corresponds with Congressmen.

The Biology Club's goal is to promote interest and opportunity in science and experimentation.

During the year, Mr. Mariani has advised the group of dissecting cats and the construction of molecular models.

2

1 — Sherri Gluckman, vice-president; Toni Gorn, secretary; and Ken Kopec, president; assemble a molecular model. 2 — Cindy Hough sorts paper for the Ecology Council recycling drive. 3 — Ecology Club's secretary Meredyth Wessman and chairman Helen Michaels test the pollution level in a sample of water.

3

Practical Experience

Mr. Cook, from Tech and Mr. Guzowski aid Camera Club members in broadening their creative outlooks in photography.

All participants benefit from the objective criticisms of photographs which they offer each other.

The Future Teachers' Club gives students an opportunity to become acquainted with the teaching profession. By learning about the profession, members of the club are able to decide on teaching as a career.

Service

Students Lend a Hand

The able staff of Library Aides do their part in running the library efficiently and keeping it a place conducive to study. Under Miss Brown's supervision, the aides perform such duties as shelving books, stamping books "In" and "Out", and signing study passes.

Throughout the school year, the School Store provides students with a convenient place to buy necessary school supplies. From the store one can obtain such items as slide rules, book covers, guides to college boards, and dance tickets.

1

Under the guidance of Mr. Peck, the Audio Visual Aides run film projectors and deliver other such equipment to classes. The AVA's services assist teachers in class presentations and help make classwork more interesting for most students. Members of the Stage Crew, led by Chief Tom Sweeney and advised by Mr. Sweeney, handle the behind-the-scenes work for all assemblies, lectures, and other extracurricular activities. By operating technical facilities, they play a major role in making activities run smoothly.

6

4 — Tom Sweeney, Tom Skelly, and Dennis Fenton adjust the lighting while Mike Zanetti and Chuck Contant converse. 5 — Fran Connelly, Nancy Hutchinson, Dave Ward, and Steve Hamlin listen as Helen Michaels explains the workings of a film projector. 6 — That can't be a record player!!?

Drama Club

Auntie Mame Huge Success

Classical's Drama Club enjoyed a huge success with their first production this year, Auntie Mame, performed on December 10 and 11.

In the spring, the students presented their second production

J.B. under the direction of Mr.

William Lavin their adviser. In addition to learning about theater by working on these productions, the Drama Club members attended a performance of Count Dracula at Stage/West to see professional actors at work.

Cheerleaders

Awaken School Spirit

The 1971-72 Cheerleading squad has cheered enthusiastically at nearly all of Classical's sports events throughout the year. Under the direction of their adviser,

Miss Kathleen Bromley, and the fine leadership of Captain Kathy Podsadowski and Co-Captain Pam Owen, the girls have spent their practice sessions creating new cheers and improving the traditional ones. On many occasions the girls' faithful efforts have been rewarded as they have successfully been able to awaken our sometimes hidden school spirit.

The Junior Varsity squad, with the guidance of Mrs. Gail Sullivan, cheers at the Junior Varsity sports events.

Art

Ventures In Creativity

The Art program at Classical gives students a chance to express their imaginative talents in several modes, be it sculpture, watercolor, oils, or pottery. Their instructor, Mr. Nai, is always at hand ready to offer criticisms necessary to give the student a different slant on artistic techniques. Rather than conducting his classes in a strict, rigid way, Mr. Nai allows a subtle, easygoing atmosphere to prevail so as not to suppress his students creative flow.

1

1 — With artistic flair, Mary Sue Shea strikes a symmetrical pose. 2 — Lisa Blouin looks at her painting from a different perspective. 3 — Cathy Marchese illustrates the gracefulness she uses in her creative technique.

Holiday Dance

Students at Leisure

The annual Holiday Dance was a big success this year for all concerned. A chance for students to get together in a friendly, leisurely atmosphere during the Holiday season, Classical High's annual Holiday Dance is the much awaited event of the school year.

4

6

4 — Kathy Kilbride dances in the spotlight. 5 — Holiday Dance Queen and semi-finalists lined up with their escorts are Paul Fischer and Melanie Gamache, Ken Talbot and "Queen" Norma Bouthiller, Kim Stanley and Steve Christy, Ed Ghareeb and Donna Curtis, and Dave Liberty with Debbie O'Dell. 6 — Ken Talbot standing with Norma Bouthiller, Queen of the Holiday Dance.

Football

Gridmen Finish At .500

A couple of key injuries, lack of proper practice facilities, and inconsistency teamed up to make the 1971-72

Bulldog football season a disappointing one. Their 4-3 Suburban League record was good for fifth place in the circuit, but a couple of near victories that would have meant a higher finish slipped away in the final moments.

In their big season-opening win over archrival South Hadley, Classical lost the services of defensive standout Gary Berte and running back Mark Mullin, both instrumental on last year's squad.

Football

Outstanding Efforts

This year Coach Cataldi got outstanding efforts from the halfback tandem of freshman Frank Buntin and junior Larry Pandoli, along with senior Bob McDonald and junior end Leroy Goodwin. The offensive line was anchored by senior tackle Jimmy Cant. Standouts on defense included the linebacking trio of Courtney Rose, John Fortune, and John Ferri, tackles Dick Alexander and Frank Serafino, and senior defensive end Ed Bachorz.

Booters Have Discouraging Season

The Classical soccer team, coached once again by Mr. Vaughan, finished a rather disappointing season with a fourth place finish in the Interschool League. The team won city games against Trade and Commerce, and lost a squeaker to eventual city champ Cathedral, 1-0.

The team also beat Longmeadow in an independent contest, 3-1. Standout players on the team were front linemen Avery Sharpe, John Sousa, and Dave Ferioli. On defense, Tom Dyjak and Tom Sweeney excelled. Next year's team shows promise with several starters returning, including Dana Blackie, Steve Leger, and Louie Litera.

JV Loses Only Once

The JV soccer team fared well this fall, finishing with a record of 12-1-1. The kickers were undefeated in city competition, easily taking the crown. The squad lost only to Chicopee, and tied Cathedral. Superior players were freshmen Vin Smith, Mark Fisher, Mike Gasperini, and goalie Jay Hammond. Dan Tricco, Steve Turgeon, Mike Badger, and Ed Thiebe were outstanding as juniors. The team was coached by Mr. Smith and Mr. Keough.

Hockey

Skaters Repeat Big Year

It was another banner year for coach Carlin and the 71-72 edition of the Classical hockey team. The pucksters skated neatly through their entire schedule en route to a Berry Division title, the only blemishes being a 4-3 loss to West Side and a hard-fought 2-2 tie with Cathedral. In addition to a stingy defense led by senior goalie Dave Ferioli, team captain Tom Sweeney, and big Mike McKillop, the high-flying Bulldogs scored a record-shattering 104 goals.

Set Sights On Playoffs

First-line performers Mike Zanetti, Mike Hespelt, and Mike Badger, along with second liners Marty Reilly, Steve Kravitz, and Tom Skelley, contributed a good deal of the big scoring punch, although coach Carlin was able to employ a third line with success. The Bulldogs again looked forward to the playoffs, where they marched to the state finals last season before bowing to champion Arlington, 8-3.

Swimming

Swimmers Beat City Foes

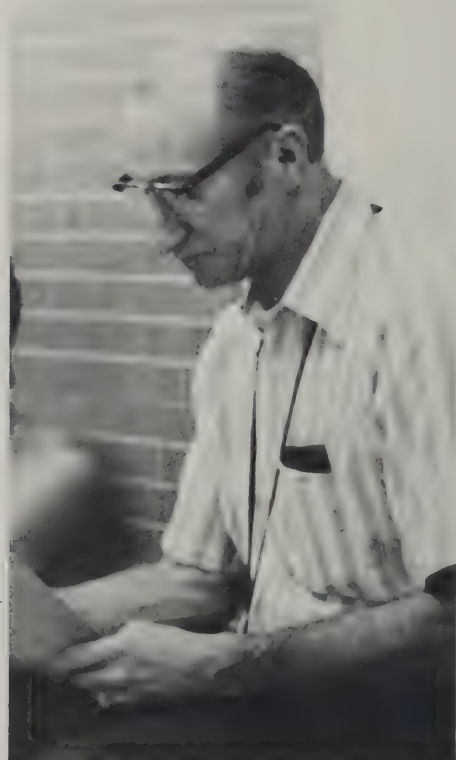

The Classical swim team took the city swimming championship with an overall record of 7-8. The swimmers went undefeated against city competition and came in eighth out of thirty-two schools in the state. The mermen were headed by captain Johnny Dieters, and juniors Jon Kowinski and Mark Gulow. The Bulldog's coach was Mr. Wulff.

Wrestling

Fenton Leads Matmen

The 71-72 wrestling squad, led by junior Dennis Fenton, finished their year with a record of 5-6-1.

Fenton went through the season without a loss, posting a perfect record of 12-0. He also took the Western Mass. title before bowing in the state finals.

Other consistent point-producers were Roger Gregoire, Daryl Monteiro, Jesse Sanders, Avery Sharpe, and Mike Farrell.

Coaching the team was Mr. Young.

Bowling

Bowlers Cop Second Spot

The Classical bowling team finished an unprecedented second place to Tech in the City League this season. The powerful attack was led by Larry DiCarlo, who rolled for the team's best average, along with Danny Johnson, Steve Grossman, Rich Victor, and Andy Hervieux. The bowlers, coached by Mr. Jermakian, ended with an overall record of 52-12.

Track

Trackmen Post Outstanding Season

A second-place city finish and a fourth place spot in the Western Mass. tournament made the 70-71 track season a most satisfying one for Coach Vaughn and the Bullogs.

Gerry Gavin did it all once more in his final season at Classical, competing in the 100, long jump, and triple jump, while fellow seniors Bruce Eggleston (880), Pete LaRochelle (javelin), and Brian Hackett (hurdles) also turned in super efforts. Larry Pandoli, Glenn Fell, Mark Watson, and Mike Rhinehart were outstanding underclassmen runners.

Baseball

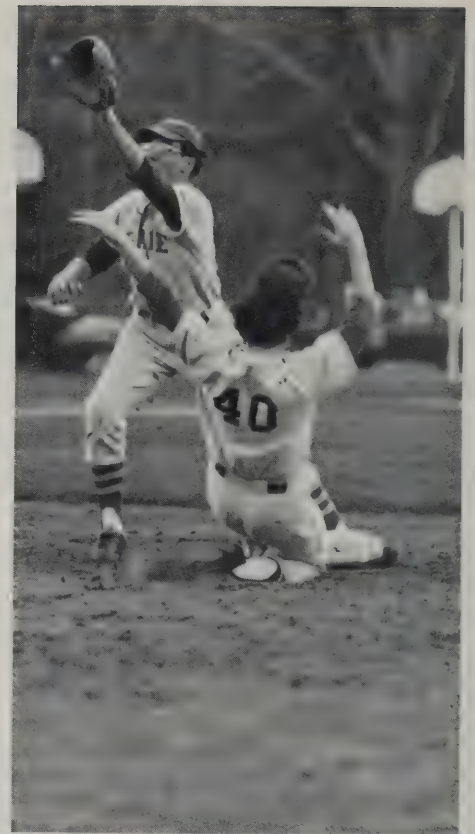

Inconsistent Pitching and Fielding Hurts

A lack of solid front-line pitching and a too-often porous defense haunted the Bulldogs throughout the 1970-71 baseball season.

Coach Smith and his charges finished up at 4-7, but just too many runs were free-ticketed home to put the team in serious contention for post-season competition. With Mark Mullan, Scott Herd, and Mike Mascaro in the lineup, however, the Bulldogs were able to score runs. Jim Swaitlowski and Mascaro anchored the pitching staff, while Scott Herd, Ron Rostaino, and Kurt Bransford provided strong infield play.

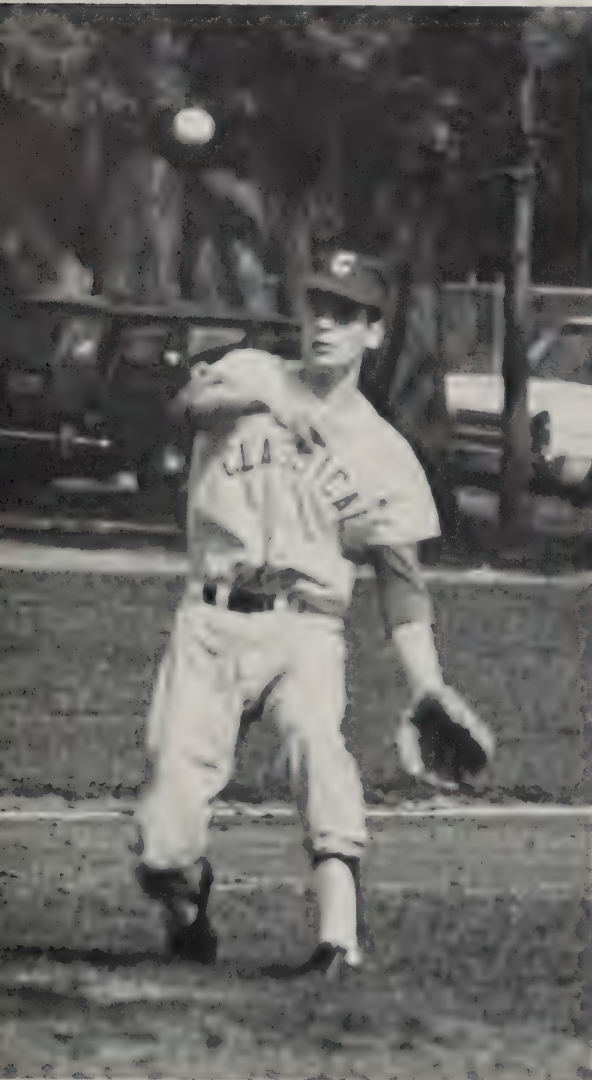

1 — Billy Chernock hits the dirt and slides in safely under the throw. 2 — Slick-fielding third baseman Mike Mascaro makes his throw to first. 3 — JV freshman standout Greg Pytko drills one up the middle for a base hit. 4 — Digging hard down the line is Gary Poulin. 5 — The 1970-71 Bulldog baseball team, FRONT ROW: Mel Federico, Rich Bosquet, Ron Rostaino, Bill

JV Scores Big Season

The JV baseball squad, coached by Mr. Ligarski, finished a highly successful season with a 16-3 record, easily capturing the city championship. Outstanding players included pitchers Roger Barratt, Danny Tricco, and Larry Feinberg, infielders Mike Farrell and Alan Drew, and outfielder Mike Mancini.

Golf

Golfers Have Fair Year

The golf team ended the 1971 golf season with a record of 5 wins, 8 losses, and 1 tie. The team beat both Trade and Commerce twice, and defeated Tech once. Outstanding golfers were Bill Keefe, and Mike Hespelt. The golfers were coached by Mr. Pare.

Crew

Classical Wins Title

The 70-71 Classical Crew team, using the wind to their advantage, took the championship match over Tech, giving them the City and Western Mass. Crowns. The bulldog squad featured rowers Ken Later, Bill Carabine, Dennis St. Laurent, Taki Megas, Mark Rademacher, Bob Morgan, Bill Dugan, and John Dieters.

Tennis

Netmen Struggle Through Losing Season

An inconsistency-plagued Classical tennis team finished their 70-71 campaign at 4-10 under rookie coach Jim Carebetta.

Despite the losing season, the netmen served highly-touted Longmeadow losses on both doubles courts, the first time the Lancers had lost two of five courts in four years.

On the season, the Mike Gurka-Warren Dell team cashed in with a 7-3 mark in doubles play, and both were undefeated in their singles matches. Tom Kirk and Bill Kantany, the No. 2 doubles team, netted a 4-4 record, while John Yates, Jamie LaRochelle, and Mitch Singer were regulars in singles competition.

Yoga

Growing Interest

A co-ed group of students from Classical and Tech gathered in one of Tech's gymnasiums on Wednesdays to learn, practice, and achieve a variety of yoga positions. Helping to instruct the group was Mimi Newman, a junior. She and the others found yoga relaxing and that it made breathing a more complete action. Advisers to the group were Mrs. Desrochers and Mrs. Greenspan.

Apparatus

Skill and Agility

Although apparatus was a required part of the girls' gym activities, many girls found the time to continue with it outside of their regular gym classes. The wide variety and level of stunts made it interesting for all participants.

Apparatus teaches coordination, grace, and rhythm and encourages skill and creativity.

1 — With perfect form, Mimi Newman achieves a difficult "candle" position. 2 — Dolores Bertalino has balance and grace needed to execute this position. 3 — Showing three different varieties of the "plow," are Dolores Bertalino, Crystal Rivers, and Kathy Brown. 4 — Carol Baldwin smiles for the camera while performing the "splits" on the balance beam. 5 — High above onlookers Pam Owen performs a well-executed "arch-jump". 6 — With perfect form, Donna Martins does a "push-up."

Folk Dancing

Pleasure In Teaching Others

Glenwood Elementary School was visited a few days a week after school by a group of girls from Classical.

The girls, advised by Mrs. Desrochers, taught the children various folk dances that they had spent time to learn. Besides being fun to learn, the series of steps help to build coordination in the children.

Teaching these folk dances was a pleasant way for this group of girls to spend some of their spare time.

Swimming

Grace in Water

Girls also instructed on a higher grade level. Those who were especially skilled in synchronized swimming taught it to girls from Duggan Junior High. They helped them to form routines to music in the water and in doing so also aided them in developing graceful moves.

Horseback Riding

Budding Equestrians

Each Monday after school, a group of girls took a bus to the Whitewoods Riding Stables. Their advisers were Mrs. Desrochers from Classical and Mrs. Greenspan from Tech. In an indoor arena, the girls were instructed in riding, care of the horses, and assemblage of their riding gear. The instructor for the group was Mindy Bishop, a student from Springfield College. Having completed the full course in riding, the students received diplomas of certification.

We leave now
continuing our life
and remembering our past.

We remember
uncontrollable laughter and quiet, sensitive tears.

We were all friends
and even though we will go our separate ways

We will remember true friends'
feelings, joys, and fears.

To forget these past years
Would be to forget
The joy of friendships.

Thank-you for being a friend.
Remember
Us.
